

Shake-ups In Many Big League Teams Coming This Winter

RADICAL CHANGES ARE COMING SOON

All Teams Will Be Strengthened During Winter.

LOOK OUT FOR ATHLETICS

Yankees Prove Season's Biggest Disappointment.

Already there are evidences that radical shake-ups in many of the big league clubs are coming this winter, and scouts have been busy of late looking over available material for next year.

These shake-ups will not be confined altogether to the teams falling to show in the race as expected but there are rumors that the contenders for the American league pennant are due for some radical changes before another season.

Donovan is Through.

Inquestionably the Yankees have been the greatest disappointment from manager down, and it is no secret that every position on the team is an open one.

So it is more or less with many of the other clubs while some other element may possibly be assured of their jobs, there are a few veterans on whom will rest the burden of proof as to whether they are capable of holding down their jobs another season.

Some of the clubs have been purchasing material from the minor leagues, but that time has passed now, so that there will be no more transfers until the drafting season is on.

Veterans Are Through.

Every one of the big league clubs has one or more men about through so far as fast company is concerned, and while the general rule of all managers is that no pitcher, not a fast, would gladly pitch up in or out of field of promise to replace some slipping star.

More than one club will be compelled to rebuild almost entirely, and the sooner the better, realizing this necessity the better, for if the clubs will not play with men playing on their past reputations their future chances for the pennant will be slimmer than the present year.

Watch Markmen.

It will be during the process of this rehabilitation that the Athletics are likely to come into their own. Manager Mack was severely criticized at the time for tearing his world's champions apart, and he does not feel what think set that he made a wise move, but the future will do much to justify his action.

Mack has gathered together a collection of youngsters who give every promise of development into stars. There are his minors, some of whom are giving together the Athletics with a team capable of holding its own in any company.

At present it is one of the hardest hitting clubs in the American league, and while its fielding has been at times erratic, it has been the unceasing work of the pitchers which is responsible for the club's lowly position.

A HANDY MAN AROUND THE HOUSE

COMISKEY FIGHTS TICKET PIRATES

White Sox Magnate Asks for Legal Action.

CHICAGO Sept. 27.—President Comiskey of the Chicago Americans, today started aggressive action against the pirates who have been selling tickets without paying for them to the world's series baseball games played here. Indicative of his desire to eliminate ticket brokers, he declared he would prosecute them to the limit.

He said: "I'm going to see that justice is done."

The boat might be ruled as an outside object, although it should be an adjunct of a water hole. But what would prevent Annette Kellerman diving to the bottom of the lake and trapping a milk-bat to the arena? Not a thing but ten or twelve feet of water.

Probably the Circus Payroll.

There is war to the right of us. War to the left of us.

War all around with its blighting; But out of the swirl of things, Out in the whirl of things,

Say, who is Jess Willard fighting?

—L. H.

We thought we were missing something lately. After pondering for two or three days, we have decided to go ahead with the deficit. It was this the old September.

—Yale. Fears Holy Cross—Stagg fears Purdue."

By Way of Reminder.

Several enthusiastic college correspondents have been boasting of the promised strength of their eleven this fall.

More than one or two have taken great pride in the announcement that many stars will be back. This condition may not prove enough, but it is nothing to boast in the faces of these teams which have sent every regular to the firing line.

Football should be played this year. But there will be no championships, and it is just as well understood that the fans will turn back their surplus and thus give another patron an opportunity to take a game without paying tail to the scalpers.

Arrangement was also made today that plans have almost been completed for enlarging Comiskey park, raising it to a permanent seating capacity of 45,000, the largest baseball park in the world. It is expected this work will be completed when the season opens next spring.

Mike Finn has managed several other teams in the Southern league, including Mobile Little Rock, Memphis and Shreveport, when it was in the league. He was a scout for the Detroit Americans last front.

Hegor will play with the Giants in the world's series. His suspension was lifted yesterday.

Mike Finn has selected to manage the Chattanooga team of the Southern league next season. He relieves Kid Etherfield.

SPORT COACHES AT ARMY CAMPS

Lansing of Missouri Assigned to Fort Sill.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Sport coaches selected by the commission on training camp activities under the war department for the formation of recreation centers at army and national guard camps and other big military camps have already reported to the camps to which they were assigned by Raymond B. Ford, chairman of the commission.

The work is under the general direction of James R. McArthur, athletic director at Princeton university, and Malcolm L. McRae, former Yale football star, and practically all of the coaches assigned to the camps are men who have made records in college athletics.

Therefore, the components of the national army and national guard in charge of the camps.

NAP LAJOIE A GOOD MANAGER

Former Cleveland Player Gets

Pennant for Toronto.

Napoleon Lajoie, former star infielder of the Cleveland American league club, has landed the International League pennant with the Toronto team. Lajoie furnishes another example of the former big league star who has made a success as a manager, partly through his knowledge of the game gained in scores of major league battles and partly through his ability to play and teach good base ball.

The remarkable playing of Lajoie was marvelled at in the International league.

Though that circuit is the harbinger of big league stars and always furnishes the most skillful team in the country, it is not the liveliest baseball field in the country.

Indeed, the International League is the second best in the country.

But the International League has the best baseball field in the country.
